Third of All Arrested Under Eight Foot Law Drive Horse Vehicles.

"TAX ROAD USERS ALIKE"

Coffin Thinks All Who Benefit by Highways Ought to Pay for Them.

Since the Police Department has been enforcing the eight foot leeway ordi-nance, relating to vehicles passing street cars, in connection with the campaign many arrests have been made, but by no means all are of motorists. Between January 1 and April 30 355 arrests of automobilists and 171 arrests of horse

Most of the cases naturally were in Traffic District C, which is north of Twenty-third street and south of Eightysixth street from river to river, including four posts on the Queensboro Bridge plaza, Queens, Here 304 automobile cases and 98 horse vehicle cases were reported. Below Twenty-third street in Manhattan there were 30 horse cases to 25 motor vehicle cases. In Brooklyn there were 34 horse cases, against 23 of motor car operators.

"Soon or later all vehicles, whether horse or motor driven, must be taxed for road maintenance," says Howard E. Coffin, vice-president of the Hudson Motor Car Company. "Appropriations for road building are being made generally, but little attention is being paid to finaning a proper road maintenance year after

"This subject is pertinent at the present time because of the general awaken-ing in every corner of the country to great value of good roads to every kind of community. PENN NINE BEATS CORNELL.

Sayre Pitches Clever Game—Bryan Aids Own Downfall.

Philadelphia, June 17.—Penn played its last home game with Cornell on Franklin Field to-day and won. 4 to 2. Shorty Sayre, whose pitching has been a big factor in Penn's good baseball record all season, held the Cornellians to seven hits. He was especially good with men on bases and fanned seven men. Bryant also pitched a dandy game, but aided in his own defeat in the second inning when he made two errors and helped Penn pite up three runs. Penn worked the squeeze play twice in the second inning. It was the last appearance on Franklin Field of Capt. Schwert, Pitcher Sayre and Out-fielder Minds. The score:

NOVELTY GOLF AT GLEN RIDGE. Calls Out Large Field.

GLEN RIDGE, N. J., June 17.—A one day invitation tournament—a good deal of a novelty in the metropolitan district—was held to-day by the Country Club of Glen. Hidge and attracted a field of 147 starters.

Glen Hidge, won the first net prize with a score of 293—60, 143.

Roy D. Webb, Englewood, won a prize for the best 18 hole round of the day when he turned in a score of 79. Wharton Green, Baltusrol, with 82—9, 73, took the award for the best 18 hole net score made by a visitor, and J. F. Capen was the winner of a similar prize for the home players.

Long Dry, Warm Spell Makes Green

Keen.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN PRESTWICK, Scotland, June 17 .- Practically all of the hundred competitors who will begin play to-morrow in the tourna-ment for the British open championship over the Prestwick course have been pratising here during the last few days. The greens have been rendered unusually fast by the prolonged spell of dry, warm weather, giving a long run to the ball on the fairway and lending a bit of uncer-tainty to the putting. The beat round made in practice was a 70.

Francis Oulmet, the American open champion, has been maintaining his steady improvement and the consensus of opinion is that he will perform much more credi tably than he did in the amateur event at Sandwich. Some think he has a good chance to win the championship, though the majority regard it as unlikely that he do quite that well. One bet was to-day that he will not finish in the made to-day first twenty.

Dartmouth Downs Rensselaer. TROY, June 17 .- In the presence of large commencement gathering R. P. I. was defeated by Dartmouth this after-noon, 12 to 4. The visitors were stronger in every department and gave a fine ex-hibition of hitting and fielding. One yachtsman said yesterday that if she had a single headrig and was cut down for that trim she would be just as fast as she is now, would do better turning to windward and would have to allow less time. This vachtsman, who has sailed many crack essels, added: "The Vanitie would do better if she had a longer gaff and a shorter boom. The sail area cut off through shortening the boom would not hurt her speed, and with a longer gaff the club topsail would set better. It would be an improvement too if the club topsail were longer on the luft pole and cut down on the yard, Gardener may make these changes."
